Uncles can do lots of things, like win prizes for you at the amusement park, play the piano with you, and help you draw. There are so many things that uncles can do, but what do they do best? You'll find out in this delightful celebration of the everyday things that uncles do best.

Laura Numeroff had her first children's book published at the same time she graduated from college. She is well known as the author of If You Give a Mouse a Cookie. Her other books include Two for Stew, Why a Disguise?, Chimps Don't Wear Glasses, and Dogs Don't Wear Sneakers. A true animal lover, Laura rides her horse, Otis, as often as she can. She lives in Los Angeles, California.

Lynn Munsinger has illustrated more than eighty children's books. Some of her favorites are Tacky the Penguin by Helen Lester, Bugs! by David T. Greenberg, and The Tale of Custard the Dragon by Ogden Nash. She lives in New York City with two cairn terriers.

SIMON & SCHUSTER BOOKS FOR YOUNG READERS
NEW YORK LONDON TORONTO SYDNEY SINGAPORE

Uncles can take you on the roller coaster,

try to win a prize for you,

and buy you cotton candy.

Uncles can play piano with you,

help you make a triple-decker
sandwich for lunch,

and tell you silly jokes.

Uncles can take you for a drive,

go to the mall with you,

and let you pick out new shoes.

Uncles can help you draw,

make puppets with you,

and build a secret clubhouse.

Uncles can let you watch the late show,

send you home with a goody bag,

and invite you back again and again.

But best of all, uncles can give you lots and lots of love.
